

News for Social Justice Representatives

We are currently working on gathering information from across Canada on those members who are social justice reps at their council or conference level. This information will give us a better idea of the breadth of our growing social justice network while enabling us to improve communications within this network. If you have recently submitted this information, there is no need to do so again. We would appreciate hearing from you if you are a social justice rep by sending your name, email and home council/conference to Jim Paddon at jim@ssvp.on.ca.

The ONRC has taken a leading role in social justice but we still have lots of room for future growth. At our recent ONRC meeting in Brantford, we had about 30 social justice reps attend our first ever regional wide meeting. We plan on having another social justice meeting at our 2020 AGM taking place April 17/18 in Waterloo, so please plan on attending.

I would also request you to consider taking an active role in our national housing campaign in your home council or conference. There will be an action plan distributed to all regions later this year. In addition, if you have any questions or requests for assistance on a social justice topic, please let us know.

Sincerely,

Jim Paddon, Chair
National Social Justice Committee
